

NPR and USC Archive User Agreement

Application by an Organization to Use the NPR Archive distributed by the Linguistic Data Consortium (LDC) of the University of Pennsylvania.

The _____, an organization engaging in human language technology research and development, agrees to use the textual data designated as the NPR Text Archive and distributed by the LDC of the University of Pennsylvania, subject to the following understandings, terms and conditions.

1. Permitted uses.

- a. The texts may only be used for linguistic research and development, including but not limited to speech recognition, machine translation, natural language processing, document understanding, information retrieval, and foreign language teaching technology.
- b. Summaries, analyses and interpretations of the linguistic properties of the text may be derived and published, provided it is not possible to reconstruct the information from these summaries.
- c. Small excerpts may be displayed to others or published in a scientific or technical context, solely for the purpose of describing the research and development and related issues.

2. Access by Individuals.

- a. Access to the texts by an individual person is to be controlled by that person's organization. The organization may only grant access to people working under its control, i.e., its own members, consultants to the organization, or individuals providing service to the organization.
- b. Individuals may be allowed access only after being informed of this license agreement and its provisions. The access is to be terminated when the conditions of the application no longer apply. The organization will retain a list of all persons ever granted access and make it available on request to the copyright holders and to the Linguistic Data Consortium.

3. Copyright.

- a. Except as specifically permitted above and as necessary to use and maintain the integrity of the data on computers used by the organization, the display, reproduction, transmission, distribution or publication of the texts is prohibited.
- b. Violations of the copyright restrictions on the texts may result in legal liability.

"Programs or excerpts of Programs contained herein are from 1996 broadcasts of NPR's "All Things Considered" and "Morning Edition" and are copyrighted works owned by National Public Radio, Inc. The Programs are used with the permission of National Public Radio, Inc. Any unauthorized duplication or other use is strictly prohibited."
